

▲ Pop the Question

With the latest Novo diamond engagement ring from Tiffany & Co., any gal will stand out in a sea of rock stars. The platinum bead-set supersparkler features a modern take on the traditional cushion-cut diamond setting, showcasing the rock in all its glory with the ring's tapered prongs. When paired with the complementary wedding bands, the ring is sure to make a statement. Fellas, be prepared, because when your girl sees this ring she'll do more than just say yes.

www.tiffany.com

▲ Triumph of Hope

One of Hollywood's premier couples, Courtney Cox Arquette and David Arquette, has joined forces with Satya Jewelry to present the EB Butterfly necklace. This simple yet elegant accessory is a symbol of freedom and hope for those children who have been plagued with the rare genetic disease, Epidermolysis Bullosa, or EB. The Hollywood couple carefully selected the butterfly-stamped sterling silver pendant and the black silk cord to symbolize the fragile skin of children with EB. All proceeds from the necklaces ($24 each) will benefit medical research to find a cure for the disease.

www.satyajewelry.com

◀ Kool Kicks

Want to make a statement even in your most casual of attitudes? Run home in this stylish pair of sneakers designed by Michael Kors. His Jet Set trainers ($79-$98) with the metallic python or taxi-yellow leather stripe display the classic MK monogram. Don't leave the gym with those smelly old runners; lace up the latest necessity in your closet. Not bold enough to do python? These trainers also come in a more modest version of camel with a simple brown leather trim. Take a leap of faith in your new MK kicks.

www.michaelkors.com